Evaluation criteria for the admission to the PhD course
Artificial Intelligence 40th cycle

Evaluation of the oral exam

The oral exam will be held in English. The Commission will ask each candidate to present their research project and, subsequently, will ask questions about it and about the CV, assessing the clarity and completeness in the presentation of the research topic, the methodological and technical competence, the aptitude for research and an interest in scientific research. The minimum score of the oral exam for inclusion in the final ranking is 28/40 points.

The minimum overall score for admission to the PhD is 68/100.
