

Bansky, Venezia. Getty Images

“The greatest crimes in the world are not committed by people breaking the rules
but by people following the rules.”

La scuola di dottorato in Paesaggio e Ambiente, Sapienza, Università di Roma presenta:

LANDSCAPE OF PROTEST

on conflictual, affective and environmental dimension of cities round table curated by Alberta Piselli, Francesco Rossi

18.10
2023
ore 10:00
Piazza Borghese 9
AULA DOTTORATO

10:00 | INTRODUCTION

Federica Morgia architect, professor of architecture, department of Architecture and Design, Sapienza University of Rome

10:30 | SESSION 01

Moderated by Francesco Rossi

Massimiliano Tabusi geographer, University for Foreigners of Siena, EUGEO Secretary General, Vice President of the Italian Geographic Society

Tali Hatuka architect, urban planner, founder and director of the Laboratory of Contemporary Urban Design, Tel Aviv University

12:00 | COFFEE BREAK

14:00 | SESSION 02

Moderated by Alberta Piselli

Ipek Türeli associate professor of architecture and Canada Research Chair in Architectures of Spatial Justice, McGill University

Federico De Matteis architect, professor of architecture, University of L'Aquila

15:30 | CONCLUSION

Cristina Imbroglini architect, professor of architecture, vice coordinator of the PhD in Landscape and Environment, Sapienza University of Rome

to participate remotely: meet.google.com/uot-qzbf-eup